Who are we?

From This Day Weddings is the ultimate South West wedding planning resource. With our comprehensive online directory, immersive wedding fair, and our newly launched magazine, we're the go-to destination for local wedding vendors, genuine South West wedding inspiration, and expert insights.

Our Team

Leading From This Day Weddings are Chantelle, our accomplished General Manager, and Emma, our talented Design and Content Manager. Together, we bring over 15 years of South West wedding industry experience. We first connected at a local wedding venue, realising the potential to enhance the South West's wedding scene.

Our Guiding Principle

Our unwavering principle centers on collaboration, prioritising community over competition. We are dedicated to supporting our local region, local vendors and those further afield who regularly service the region in their businesses. Our aim is to promote the abundance of talent in the South West and to boost each and every business in our wedding industry.

Not only is the entire magazine designed in the South West, we have chosen a Perth business to handle our printing, ensuring the entire magazine is WA made from start to finish!

In the magazine

Issue One is 100 pages of South West wedding vendors, real weddings, styled shoots, planning advice and tools to help couples with their planning journey. Our magazine is printed on recycled, uncoated stock with a coated stock for the covers for a beautifully smooth and luxurious feel throughout the magazine.

Circulation

We have 3000 copies that will be distributed across the South West and metro retailers including wedding and event businesses as well as newsagencies)

Audience

Our primary target audience are engaged couples, typically females aged 18-65. The large age range not only includes couples getting married but also parents and grandparents of engaged couples.
